

NMP Somatics™

Code of Professional Conduct

This Code of Professional Conduct (“Code”) applies to all Students, Teachers in Training, and Certified Teachers participating in or representing NMP Somatics™ programs.

By enrolling in training or teaching under the NMP Somatics™ name, participants agree to uphold the following standards, in alignment with all NMP Somatics™ agreements, guidelines, and program expectations.

1. Professional Integrity

Participants shall:

- Act with honesty and transparency in all professional communications
- Accurately represent their level of training and certification status
- Refrain from misleading advertising or exaggerated claims
- Maintain integrity in teaching and business practices

Misrepresentation of credentials or certification status is grounds for disciplinary action.

2. Scope of Practice & Responsibility

Participants agree to:

- Operate within their professional qualifications and local regulations
- Avoid providing medical diagnosis or treatment unless separately licensed
- Avoid making therapeutic or clinical claims beyond their training and credentials

Participants are solely responsible for ensuring compliance with laws and regulations in their jurisdiction.

3. Nervous System and Body Safety & Method Integrity

Participants shall uphold the foundational principles of NMP Somatics™, including:

- Gentleness and non-force
- Comfort-based movement
- Respect for autonomy and personal pacing
- Blueprint integrity (for official formats)

Teaching practices that contradict these principles may result in review or revocation of teaching privileges.

4. Respectful Communication & Community Conduct

Participants agree to:

- Maintain respectful communication in all training environments
- Refrain from harassment, discrimination, or abusive behavior
- Foster a safe and inclusive learning space
- Respect diversity of background, ability, identity, and experience

Disruptive or harmful conduct may result in removal from training without refund.

5. Professional Boundaries

Participants shall:

- Maintain appropriate teacher-student boundaries
- Avoid exploitation of clients or students
- Avoid dual relationships that compromise professional judgment
- Maintain confidentiality of personal information shared in training

6. Confidentiality

Participants agree to:

- Respect confidentiality of personal stories shared in training
- Not disclose sensitive participant information without consent
- Protect proprietary materials and internal program information

Confidential information includes, but is not limited to:

- Training content not publicly released
- Participant disclosures
- Business practices and internal communications

7. Ethical Marketing & Representation

Participants shall:

- Represent somatic education and NMP Somatics™ accurately
- Avoid fear-based or pain-based marketing tactics
- Avoid guaranteed outcomes or medical claims

- Clearly state training status when not certified
 - Follow NMP Somatics™ naming, branding, and language guidelines
- Marketing should reflect professionalism, accuracy, and respect.

8. Intellectual Property Respect

Participants shall not:

- Copy, distribute, or sell proprietary materials
- Present official NMP Somatics™ formats as independently created systems
- Use protected program names beyond authorized permissions

9. Conflict Resolution

If a dispute arises, participants agree to:

- Address concerns respectfully and directly when possible
- Seek resolution in good faith
- Avoid public disparagement of the organization or community

Concerns may be submitted in writing for review.

10. Disciplinary Action

NMP Somatic Education Canada reserves the right to:

- Issue warnings
- Suspend participation
- Revoke teaching privileges
- Revoke certification designation
- Remove website listing

In cases of misconduct or violation of this Code or related agreements.

11. Amendments

NMP Somatic Education Canada may update this Code as the program evolves.

Continued participation constitutes acceptance of updated standards.

Acknowledgment

By signing below, the participant agrees to uphold this Code of Professional Conduct while participating in or representing NMP Somatics™ .

Name: _____

Signature: _____

Date: _____